LEGALLY BLONDE . . . L'awfully Good!

Headlining JARC's 40th Anniversary celebration will be this year's hotly anticipated fall fundraiser presenting LEGALLY BLONDE on Tuesday, October 27th at 7:30 p.m. at the Fisher Theatre.

The musical version of the popular hit movie will entertain you with the story of Elle (and of course, her chihuahua, Bruiser) who goes from sorority house to the halls of justice in a delightful show filled with lots of fun and laughter.

Chairs for the event are Susie Pappas, David Carroll and Jeffrey Eisenshtadt. Young Adult Chairs for the Alibi Lounge Pre-Glow are Lindsay and Ryan Dembs, A.J. and Ben Falik, and Stacey and Marc Wittenberg.

Individual and Corporate sponsorships are available. For more information on sponsorships, contact Carol Kaczander at 248-538-6610, x343.

Far Out FABULOUS!

Join Honorary Chairs Jennifer and Dan Gilbert, Nate and Cathy Forbes, and Jennifer and David Forbes on Saturday, October 17, 2009, when JARC and Somerset Collection South celebrate jointly at a 40th Anniversary party bringing back the wild and crazy fun of the 1960's. Party Like It's 1969 will run from 6 - 11 p.m. at Somerset Collection South. Guests are encouraged to wear their best 60's threads to make this a really swingin' party!

From 6 - 8 p.m., guests will enjoy 10% off purchases at select Somerset Collection South stores, a martini bar, small plates and live entertainment including a Sinatra-style performance. From 8 - 11 p.m. the Somerset A Go-Go Party will feature music from the 60's, food, drink and kitschy Go-Go Dancers. Proceeds from the event will benefit JARC. Special thanks to Somerset Collection, Dragon Bleu Vodka and StarTrax.

Make your reservations NOW at $58 per person. Visit www.jarc.org!

JARC's Mission is:

- ✓ to enable people with developmental disabilities to live full, rich lives as respected members of the community in the setting of their choice;
- ✓ to provide access to a Jewish way of life for those who choose it;
- ✓ to provide support services to families who have minor children with any disability or adults with developmental disabilities living at home;
- ✓ to educate and sensitize the public regarding people with disabilities and their value to the community.

Letter from the President:

ROB NUSBAUM

Dear Friends,

It is hard to believe that my first year as President has passed so quickly, and I am honored to be at the helm of JARC as we reach our milestone 40th anniversary. The past twelve months have been filled with unprecedented challenges, but I can confidently report that JARC is and will always remain steadfastly committed to providing the people we serve with the highest quality of care and service possible.

In the face of proposed state budgets cuts for services to people with developmental disabilities and in response to the decline in fundraising revenue due to the economic downturn, JARC has responded by implementing significant cost-saving measures, some with immediate impact and others with an eye toward the future. But then JARC has always been known for its resiliency and its ability to defy the odds.

In the mid-1960's when a group of parents first met to share their concerns about the future of their adult children with developmental disabilities, they knew the road ahead would not be easy — funding had to be secured, zoning laws changed and community prejudices had to be overcome. But out of the seeds they planted, JARC has today grown to 20 beautiful homes, an array of supported living arrangements and a children and family services division which provides respite care, advocacy, Jewish day school inclusion, age-appropriate social groups for children and teens and adults, information and referral services and community education and training.

JARC's amazing accomplishments are an incredible testament to the quality and strength of its forward-thinking Board, its remarkably committed staff and a fantastically generous community.

I am proud to join you in celebrating JARC's 40th Anniversary. Thanks to all of you for keeping the dream alive!

ROBERT NUSBAUM, JARC President

Benard L. Maas Foundation Continues its Commitment to JARC

At the core of the "JARC Heart" philosophy is the assertion that everyone deserves the right to be cared for in a warm, loving way and lead a meaningful, productive life. JARC is committed to being a passionate, constant advocate for those we serve, no matter what stage of their lives or how great the level of care and attention needed.

JARC is honored to announce the establishment of the Benard L. Maas Foundation Advocacy Fund to help support the patient advocacy needs of the 96 residents with disabilities living in JARC group homes and transition homes. Among the services the fund helps make available are:

- in-hospital advocacy with medical professionals to ensure the people in our care receive excellent medical attention;
- emotional support and company to those we serve while they are in a hospital or rehabilitation facility;
- assurance that space in their JARC home will be held so they have a familiar place to return to upon their discharge;
- specialized medical and nursing services when residents return home;
- needed home equipment and modifications such as beds, ramps or lifts

According to Matthew Engelbert, a Maas Foundation Director, "The directors of the Benard L. Maas Foundation are very proud of our longstanding partnership with JARC. Lynn Engelbert (Director) spearheaded this effort as she feels strongly about the importance of this project and the essential benefits it will provide."

With the establishment of this new fund, the Benard L. Maas Foundation affirms its 24-year commitment to JARC which began in 1985, with the creation of the Benard L. Maas Supported Independence Fund and continues to include the Maas Technology Fund and Maas Quality of Life Fund. As JARC's population ages, the newest Maas Fund will be one of the organization's most valuable and vital resources.

JARC's SpringElation Safari 2009 'Wildly' Successful!!

The evening was sunny and the breezes mild as JARC celebrated its 11th annual SpringElation and 40th Anniversary at the Detroit Zoo. With 1,600 guests of all ages, the exclusive event raised over $300,000 for the Merle and Shirley Harris Children and Family Division.

Event co-chairs Ron Applebaum and Jenny Kaplan, Lindsay and Ryan Dembs and Stacey and Marc Wittenberg were thrilled with the great turnout and the enthusiasm of 65 solicitors who worked so hard to secure sponsorships and gifts. Stacey Wittenberg adds, "I was really happy with SpringElation. Even in these tough economic times, the event was well-attended — sold out in fact. And it was great to see so many families enjoying a fun-filled evening at a great venue all to help children with disabilities. I was proud to be a part of it."

Volunteer Chair Barbara Jonas recruited more than 118 volunteers to help the event run smoothly. Extreme Teen Co-Chairs Jacob Allen, Sara Aronovitz, Josh Ketai and Hayley Sakwa enlisted the additional help of 33 teen volunteers. Highlights of the evening included a musical welcome by the Berkley High School Jazz Band, roaming animal-costumed volunteers, a safari-themed scavenger hunt with fun prizes, upbeat music and dancing by StarTrax Event Productions, face painting by Faces In The Air, dinner by Matt Prentice's Milk and Honey and docent-led tram tours.

A special SpringElation bonus gave guests the opportunity to sing "Happy 40th Birthday" to JARC and blow out the candles on a super-sized cake.

The festivities were beautifully captured on film by Michael Jonas Photography, volunteer photographer Ron Ostreicher as well as by HOUR Detroit Magazine. Be sure to check out the photos on www.jarc.org!

Spotlight on Volunteers: Rose Stocker

ROSE STOCKER

Rose Stocker is no stranger to office work. After 26 years as an executive secretary and buyer for Marathon Oil Company, she brought her considerable talents to JARC.

"I was looking for places to volunteer and to keep me busy," says Rose, "My cousins recommended JARC to me because they had a daughter in one of the group homes." Twelve years later, at age 92, Rose's professional skills remain razor sharp.

When she began volunteering at JARC in 1997, Rose remembers a time when tributes and newsletter articles were typed on a "state of the art" electric typewriter, and an all-volunteer "mail brigade" helped label the newsletter for mailing. At that time, there were about 50 tribute funds, the newsletter was 10 pages long and 4,000 community supporters received each issue.

Over the years, Rose has been a part of JARC's growth and progress. "Now, I do all my work on a computer," she proudly states. In addition, she compiles and edits the tribute listings for the newsletter — which currently reaches nearly 10,000 homes — and she maintains a master list of over 140 tribute funds.

She also works on a variety of agency mailings and takes tributes requests over the phone.

With all her abilities, there is no doubt that Rose Stocker is one of JARC's most valuable assets.

As JARC celebrates its 40th anniversary, we look back...

From the JARCives

Hope Springs from the Ashes and the Dream Goes On

In 1977, the State of Michigan passed landmark legislation that allowed group homes for six or fewer people to open in any neighborhood without special zoning approval. This significant ruling opened the doors to small community-based group homes.

It was an exciting time of expansion for JARC, then known as AJR (Association for Jewish Retarded). In 1978, Harvard graduate and Detroit native Joyce Keller was hired as Executive Director, and before the decade closed, two new homes opened their doors in Oak Park - the Meadowlark Haverim Home and the Seymour J. Gilmore Memorial Home.

The year 1979 marked the beginning of the Aaron and Helen L. DeRoy Independent Living Program to help individuals who did not need 24-hour supervision to live independently in their own homes and programs.

The decade of the 80's began with a name change as AJR officially became JARC (Jewish Association for Retarded Citizens) and the organization kept on expanding to meet the needs of the people it served. The residents of the first group home on Evergreen moved to the Samuel and Jean Frankel Home in Southfield. The Sadie and Charles Grosberg Home in Beverly Hills and the Shirley T. Medow Home in Huntington Woods opened in 1982, followed by the Beit Channa Home and the Shenkman Family Home, and the Meadowlark Home was rededicated as the Mary and Donald Samuels Home.

Then tragedy struck. Community residents, opposed to a proposed Pleasant Ridge home donated by Louis Blumberg, filed two lawsuits. Both failed. And then the unthinkable - the home was torched shortly before its opening.

From the ashes of the fire, the JARC community pulled together, forging a renewed sense of purpose. Under the watch of 24-hour guard service, the Louis C. Blumberg Home was rebuilt and opened four months later.

Spotlight on Staff: Chris Hench

CHRIS HENCH

Chris Hench, JARC's Chief Operating Officer, has been with the agency since 1988, and oversees all of JARC's program services. She has been involved in every aspect of program development, including the formation of JARC's Harris Division and growth in residential and enhanced services.

Having worked in the field of developmental disabilities her entire professional life, Chris received her MSW from the University of Michigan School of Social Work and Bachelor of Arts with Distinction from the University of Michigan School of Languages, Arts and Sciences. Without hesitation, she proudly states, "The best part of my job is getting to spend time with the people we serve, and working with the JARC staff — the best staff anywhere ever. They never cease to amaze me."

In September, 2008, Chris was elected to serve on the Board of the Michigan chapter of the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. It has enabled her to become involved with people from various parts of the state and bring back ideas for making JARC even better.

Most recently, Chris has introduced the principles of Gentle Teaching (GT) into the agency philosophy. With GT, employees are trained to use their presence, hands, words and eyes to help the people entrusted to their care feel safe, cared about, loved and engaged. There are now several Gentle Teaching mentors on staff and in October, JARC will be bringing in the founder of GT, Dr. John McGee, to speak to the agency staff and the staffs of other Jewish agencies.

Chris adds, "What I love about JARC is that the people here are never satisfied... we always want to make our services better and better."

From the Boardroom:

At its 40th Annual Meeting held June 9, JARC welcomed seven new board members and paid special tribute to its past Board presidents. Newly elected members to the Board are Joanne Aronovitz, Margo Collins, Joel Kellman, Miriam Leventhal, Jason Miller, Susie Pappas and Eli Scherr, who will each serve a first three-year term.

Board members elected for a second three-year term were Ron Applebaum, Julie Hertzberg, Marty Levinson and Lisa Pernick. Elected to their third three-year term were Lisa Brown and Howard Luckoff.

JARC congratulates its newly-elected officers: President Rob Nusbaum, President Elect Jeff Eisenshtadt, Vice Presidents David Caroll, David Grand and Howard Luckoff, Secretary Lisa Brown and Treasurer Ryan Dembs.

Continuing board members are Amy Berlin, Sandra Bittker, H. Adam Cohen, Sharon Eisenshtadt, A.J. Falik, Stephanie Freedman, Myrna Grand, Lindsay Gross, David Haron, Renee Kaplan, Robert Kaplow, Sherri Ketai, Linda Z. Klein, Barry Leshman, Bobbie Miller, Jo Elyn Nyman, Lowell Salesin, Marc Schechter, Joey Selesny, James Sherman, Janis Shulman, Robert Steingold, Scott Werner and Stacey Wittenberg.

JARC expresses its deepest gratitude to those members whose terms have come to an end: Dennis Bernard, Kate Bush, Jeff Cohen, Anne Fleming, Shelley Gach-Droz, Chris Glasier, Doreen Hermelin, Ron Klein, Josh Linkner and Mary Topf.

Officers elected to JARC's parent corporation, The JARC Foundation, are President H. James Zack, Secretary Rob Kaplow and Treasurer I. William Cohen.

Dan Gilbert rotated off the JARC Foundation Board and Dennis Bernard was elected to this three-year term. The continuing Foundation Board members are Craig Erlich, David Frank, Irving Nusbaum, Robert Schechter, Eli Scherr and Larry Shulman.

Also elected to the other board and officer positions for JARC's various property corporations are: Guy Barron, Jeffrey Cohen, Renee Erlich, Ronald Hodess, Joel Kellman, Daniel Medow and Roberta Miller.

Matthew Engelbert and Julie Rodecker Holly relinquished their positions on the JARC Properties Board, and Morton Collins and Geoff Kretchmer were elected to fill these one-year terms.

Congratulations to all new and returning board members.

Deloitte Volunteers Impact JARC

On June 5th, for the third consecutive year, JARC was chosen as a site for Deloitte Impact Day, a day of community service for over 700 employees of the local office of Deloitte & Touche, a national accounting firm. Starting at 7:30 a.m., a group of 70 enthusiastic volunteers power-washed, painted and stained decks, backfilled, graded and prepared flower beds and did interior and exterior painting at several JARC homes and at the Katzman Administration Building. The talent, commitment and quality of the work done by the Deloitte volunteers was amazing. Even more gratifying is that this cadre of dedicated workers is already eagerly looking forward to

Deloitte & Touche plant, paint, power wash . . . and pose for their annual day of community service at JARC

JARC Goes Green at Annual Flower-A-Thon

With a great donation of lovely flowers and planting materials from Harry's Garden Center and Great Lakes Landscape Design, JARC's annual Flower-A-Thon marked the beginning of the summer blooming season. On June 14th, scores of dedicated volunteers diligently raked the soil, weeded and planted dozens of annuals at numerous JARC homes. Says JARC Volunteer Coordinator, Alissa Pianin, who organized the event, "These wonderful volunteers are very committed to making sure JARC homes are the showplaces of their neighborhoods, and we are so grateful for their commitment and gifts of friendship."

BINGO for Temple Beth El

TODAH RABAH to Temple Beth El for their continued support in hosting the JARC Bingo. Many teens and their families have passed through the Temple's doors to enjoy and participate in this monthly event. Special thanks to the wonderful Temple Beth El maintenance staff, Victor Aguilar, Al Friant, Damon Kaigler, Scott Vanek, David Pearson, Joanna Friant, and Nana Aguilar, who always make sure we are accommodated and feel welcome. JARC could never have established such a successful and fun program without the Temple's generosity and hospitality.

The feeling of 'home' begins with a house ...and the

Since its inception, JARC has made certain that its homes were more than "houses" made of wood and brick. It was imperative that they be comfortable, welcoming, beautiful and safe.

Over the years, as the population of JARC aged, the changing physical needs of the residents made it necessary to re-think the physical layout and features of the homes as well.

In 1986, the Shenkman Family Home opened in West Bloomfield, and it was the first JARC home that could accommodate residents who were in wheelchairs or have other mobility and medical problems. Low-pile carpeting, wider hallways and level door thresholds were only a few of the modifications required to make the Shenkman Home barrier-free and "resident" friendly.

Although many JARC homes were originally two-story or tri-level dwellings, today all but two homes are ranch-style. This includes the Ellen Labes Vacation Home located in Gladwin, Michigan where most of JARC's residents spend their vacation time.

caring, loving people who live there.

JARC's own Maintenance Department, as well as generous Business Buddies and professional contractors, have kept busy as many of the homes were adding ramps, widening doorways and remodeling bathrooms with safety features such as grab bars and roll-in showers.

This year, JARC will proudly open the Nusbaum Family Home, which is not only totally barrier-free, but will be the first known environmentally "green" group home built from the ground up. The four-bedroom, single-story brick house has bamboo floors and blinds, geo-thermal heat, high-efficiency appliances and lighting, eco-friendly paint, a deck made of recycled material and native landscaping.

Most of all, the new Nusbaum Home is a reflection of the thoughtful foresight and deep commitment to the people JARC serves to ensure their well-being and provide the most loving, warm place to call home.

Tribute Certificate...

Perfect for any occasion!

Many, Many

Thanks

The following Tributes and Memorials were received between March 1, 2009 to June 26, 2009.

We are so very grateful to each and every member of the wonderful JARC family.

You give so generously to support men, women and children with developmental disabilities as valued, included members of our community.

JARC tributes are tax-deductible contributions to help people with disabilities. They are a way to recognize milestones or honor someone special. JARC acknowledges all tributes on a beautiful certificate within one business day.

During the past 40 years JARC has deeply touched the lives of those who are today its senior-most citizens.

Many of these men and women take part in the Rosalie and Bruce Rosen RRR Program (Recreation, Relaxation and Relationships) which meets every weekday at the Pitt Home. While some of their memories have become cloudy with age, there is no doubt about the impact JARC has made in their lives.

Jayne Wilkinson, a RRR Program leader, posed some questions to them about their personal histories and their experiences at JARC, and they very enthusiastically shared their recollections.

Those involved in this project were: Martin Steiner (Feldstein/Katzman Home), Ruben Domnitch (Grand Home), Alan Bider (Grand Home), Eileen Cohen (Medow Home) and Jacob Feldman (Laker Home).

What was your life like before you came to JARC. Where did you live or who did you live with?

MARTY: It was pretty horrible. I was barefoot with salt on my feet. It was hard — rotten.

RUBEN: I lived with my parents. I lived in Detroit for a long time.

ALAN: Institution...it was bad.

EILEEN: I had to go to court and then went into a foster home, but I couldn't get along with the foster parents. Then I went into the Meadowlark Home with six girls. Then I went into Downing (Samuels Home). Then into Gilbert, and then to Medow.

JACOB: I lived with my father, "May he rest in peace."

Do you remember how you felt when you first came to JARC? Were you excited or afraid?

JACOB: Maybe I was a little afraid.

RUBEN: I moved in in 1974. I wasn't really excited at all. All three of my brothers were alive at that time. My mother was gone. I had to move out before something happened to my father.

Who were the first people you remember meeting at JARC?

MARTY: Bill Miller and the other guys.

ALAN: John McCaffrey (Director of Community Supports/Frankel Division).

EILEEN: The managers were all good. I liked Kim.

RUBEN: Jacob was the first person I met.

JACOB: Joyce Keller... she's still around.

What have you been doing since you came to JARC? What kind of work have you done?

MARTY: I went on trips. I worked at JVS downtown. I enjoy going out to eat.

RUBEN: I used to work at Goodwill and Crowley Milner's but I couldn't fold stock. At JVS I helped with chip clips — wasn't too hard. Now I am retired.

JACOB: I like to live happy. I used to do chip clips at JVS, too. Then I worked at Ira Kaufman. I prayed over the bodies. I was a shomer and said prayers over the bodies. I am retired.

What do you want to say to wish JARC a happy 40th anniversary?

MARTY: Wish them Good Luck.

RUBEN: Hello, Happy 40th Anniversary! It started sometime in the 60's. I think in was 1969.

ALAN: Happy Anniversary, JARC.

EILEEN: Many happy returns to JARC.

JACOB: Happy Anniversary!

Jewish News Celebrates JARC's 40th With $40 Subscription Offer

In celebration of JARC's 40th anniversary, The Jewish News is offering a special $40 annual rate through JARC for new in-state subscriptions, with a portion of the proceeds going to JARC's Slomovitz Scholarship Fund. The regular annual rate is $69.

Philip and Anna Slomovitz were one of JARC's founding families and benefactors of the Beit Channa Home. Philip also founded The Jewish News in 1942. Their son, Gabriel, was a resident of JARC's Feldstein/Katzman Home.

"JARC continues to be a national model of care, compassion and advocacy for its clients and their families and has educated and enriched our entire Jewish community in the process," said Jewish News Publisher Arthur Horwitz, a former JARC board member and vice president. "It is fitting that we pay tribute to JARC and our founder, Philip Slomovitz, with this special offer and donation."

JARC supporters are encouraged to purchase new subscriptions to The Jewish News for themselves, friends, children, grandchildren and others. Not only has The Jewish News been selected in four of the past five years as Michigan's best weekly publication in its class, but it continues to be the glue that binds our Jewish community into one of the most cohesive and admired in North America.

Also, during these difficult economic times, new subscriptions to The Jewish News help assure that its future, and those of the many local businesses who advertise in it and depend on your patronage, matter to you.

To subscribe (multiple orders are welcome!), please call (248) 351-5174 and use the code JARC40. Offer is good for new, in-state subscriptions only and expires October 1, 2009.
